Anti-Spyware with Spam Controls (formerly known as ParetoLogic Anti-Spyware with Spam Controls), is the most effective internet security suite available. The solution is developed by ParetoLogic and is based on the industry's most sophisticated anti-spyware technology. Features of "ParetoLogic Anti-Spyware with Spam Controls" include:

- Real-time Blocking technology identifies a potentially unwanted application that has already downloaded to your PC.
- Customizable scan procedures can be defined to ensure you have a thorough scan of your computer.
- An active protection stage (ASP), a first of its kind, will prevent spyware from downloading to your PC.
- The solution detects and removes adware, keyloggers, spyware, pop-up ads, trojans and hijackers, as well as other potentially unwanted applications (PUAs).
- The product's new features include a new Cycle Detection feature, which automatically prevents spyware from recurring loops, such as repeatedly opening the same spam email attachments.
- A large amount of ParetoLogic's own definition database constantly identifies new threats and updates their definitions so that your PC is always protected against the latest threats.

"ParetoLogic Anti-Spyware with Spam Controls" is all about real-time protection. It identifies threats that are already being downloaded to your PC, and allows you to block, quarantine, and remove them. This ensures that spyware is identified immediately, before it has time to do anything detrimental. The "Active Protection" stage prevents Spyware from getting "in the door". Customizable Scan Procedures "ParetoLogic Anti-Spyware with Spam Controls" has a customizable scan procedure that allows you to define the depth of scanning. The product includes real-time blocking of active spyware programs and an active protection stage that blocks and detects spyware and other potentially unwanted applications. The scan can be configured to optimize the removal of individual files such as: spyware, keyloggers, trojans, hijackers, adware and pop-up ads. The product will also restore a number of files that have been inadvertently deleted so you don't have to worry about losing files. The Anti-Spyware solution will also remove spyware and adware components from your PC without deleting its common files. This allows you to keep
